GERMANY IS NOT FRIGHTENED BY AMERICAN ARMY

Declares Emperor In Proclamation to His Army and Navy

SAYS THAT HIS SUBMARINES ARE MEETING WITH SUCCESS

Asks God to Grant Victory to Germany in Great Struggle.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Amsterdam, Aug. 1.—The coming of American armies to France and numerical superiority on the part of the allies do not frighten Germany, declares Emperor William in a proclamation to the German army and navy.

"Vital forces which are streaming across the sea to the enemy," he said, "are being attacked by German submarines which are certain of success."

The emperor in his proclamation, which is dated August 1, alludes to the successes which the German forces have won, the bringing of peace to the eastern front and the heavy blows dealt the allies during the present summer. He assured the army and navy that, although they are in the midst of the hardest struggle of the war, they will be victorious. The emperor continued:

"American armies and numerical superiority do not frighten us. It is spirit which brings the decision Prussian and German history teaches that, as well as the course which the campaign has hitherto taken.

"In true comradeship with my army stands my navy. In unshakable will to win the victory in the struggle with opponents who are often superior and, despite the united efforts of the greatest naval powers of the world my submarines are sure of success. They are tenaciously attacking and fighting the vital forces which are streaming across the sea to the enemy."

"Every ready for battle the high sea forces, in untiring work guard the road for the submarines to the open sea and, in union with the defenders of the coast, safeguard for them the sources of their strength."

"Far from home the small and heroic band of our colonial troops is offering brave resistance to a crushing superior force."

"We remember with reverence all who have given their lives for the fatherland."

"Filled with care for their brothers in the field, the people at home are, in self-sacrificing devotion, placing their entire strength at the service of our great cause. We must and shall continue to fight until the enemy's will to destruction is broken. We will make every sacrifice and put forth every effort to that end."

"In this spirit the army and the homeland are inseparably bound together." Their united stand and unbending will is certain to bring victory in the struggle for Germany's right and Germany's freedom.

"God grant it."

LET CONTRACTS FOR NEW VESSELS

Washington, Aug. 1.—Contracts for 22 additional steel cargo vessels and 10 tugs were awarded last week by the Emergency Fleet Corporation, built by the Ames Shipping company, the shipping board announced today. Fourteen of the cargo steamers will be built by the Ames Shipping company, Seattle, and the other eight by the Long Beach Shipbuilding company, Long Beach, Cal.

All the tugs—six of which will be steel and the remainder wood—will be constructed by the Northwest Engineering works, Green Bay, Wis. It was also announced that four 10,000-ton steel cargo ships will be built in the Chinese government yard at Shanghai. They will be a part of the general contract entered recently with the Chinese government. The 22 vessels to be built at Long Beach and Seattle will be of 8300 deadweight tons each.

ALLIES DELIVER A NEW OFFENSIVE

London, Aug. 1.—The allies today delivered a new stroke over a ten-mile front between Byzance, about four miles south of Soissons, to Seringes, north of Fere-en-Tardenois. The result was a considerable advance and the wiping out of the elbow in the line at Oulchy-le-Chateau according to a dispatch to the Evening Standard this afternoon.

TAX RATES DOUBLED.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Federal license taxes on retail dealers in tobacco, cigars and cigarettes were doubled today by the house ways and means committee in framing the war revenue bill. Federal licenses for amusements also were doubled in rates and a new tax was put on shooting galleries.

Clash of Cold Steel on Steel and Groans of Dead and Dying as the Americans Fought With the Huns

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

London, Wednesday, July 31.—Yesterday was a day of sheer hard in-and-out fighting on the American front, telegraphs Reuter's correspondent on the front north of the Marne. He says that the final capture of Seringes by the Americans was an especially creditable achievement.

After the Americans took the village on Monday, the Germans made no infantry attack on the place but kept up a constant artillery and machine gun fire to drive them out. This continued all day on Tuesday and towards evening the enemy seemed to think that the spirit of the defenders might possibly be broken and then they began to emerge from the Nesles forest in a way that seemed to forecast a fresh attempt to take the village. Of the fighting which ensued the correspondent writes:

"The Americans after three days of to and fro fighting through villages had learned subtlety and determined to have a real fight to a finish. They consequently withdrew as if retiring from Seringes and the Germans crept down from the high ground convinced that they had their opponents beaten. Additional German troops came pouring in until the town was occupied by Germans."

"But as the new occupants began to organize their defenses they found that bullets appeared to be coming from three sides of the village and it was not long before they discovered that the Americans while withdrawing from the front of the town had commenced an encircling movement on both sides, thus forming a ring almost completely around it.

"Then came tragic fighting. The Prussian Guard had voted not to surrender and their opponents were just as anxious to see the thing through. It was an affair of small arms, but the Americans proved to be better shots and slowly picked off men here and there.

"Then the Americans began to advance and slowly their encircling ring closed about the village. As the ring drew closer and the defenders saw their doom approaching they redoubled their fire, but still the Americans came on unfalteringly like a storm or the unavoidable stroke of fate.

"When the Americans reached the precincts of the village their fire ceased and with one wild yell they closed with the foe. The fierce up roar suddenly gave place to a strange silence as man grappled with man. Only the cold clash of the cold steel on steel and the groans of the stricken could be heard.

"The issue was never in doubt. At this kind of fighting the American is more than equal to any Prussian guardsman, and in a little more than ten minutes all was over. Except for a few German prisoners, every German in the village had breathed his last. Such was the final capture of Seringes.

"There, for the first time since the allies crossed the Ourcq the Germans may be said to have definitely taken the offensive.

"All through the day's fighting the enemy's airplanes attempted in the most daring manner to assist in the battle. Early in the morning six enemy planes succeeded in penetrating as far as the La Croix Blanche farm, near La Fere forest. They swooped down close above the roads in the valley and fired upon allied troops.

"Members of the Prussian Guard who were taken prisoner state that their orders were to hold the line at all costs and well they obeyed. All three of their battalions were apparently in the line on this memorable day, which ended everywhere in victory for the allies, although there was no great gain of ground.

"During the following night ground near Cierges was captured by the Americans. This advance will make it possible for the troops in this sector to join hands with the conquerors of Sergy and Seringes."

"During the night the enemy twice attempted to retake Sergy but each time he was repulsed with heavy losses. Then he made a fierce assault on Meury farm, east of Seringes, which was piled high with the dead which he had left there the day before, when every man defending it died at his post. There again the enemy was unsuccessful, though not until steel had crossed steel in the farm yard and the heaps of German

FOURTH LOAN TO BE LAUNCHED BY THE GOVERNMENT

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

Washington, Aug. 1.—Plans for the campaign for the fourth Liberty loan today began to take definite form following announcement by Secretary McAdoo that the campaign will open September 28, and continue three weeks, ending October 19.

Posters and advertising for the new loan will be issued shortly, it was learned today. The campaign, coming after the harvest season, will be carried particularly to the farmers of the nation.

Official announcement as to the size of the fourth loan has not yet been made, but it has been indicated that the government will attempt to raise $6,000,000,000 by the sale of bonds which will bear 4 1/2 per cent interest.

TAX ON AUTOS AND GASOLINE AGREED UPON

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

Washington, Aug. 1.—The house ways and means committee, engaged in framing a bill designed to raise $8,000,000 by taxation during the fiscal year, today continued the consideration of proposals made by the treasury department to tax luxuries and non-essential expenditures.

Automobile-owners under provisions of the bill, tentatively agreed upon yesterday will be called upon to pay a tax on the use of their cars. The tax will range from a charge of $10 a year on automobiles originally retailed at $500, to a tax of $60 on machines selling for $3000. For each $500 above $3000 on the sale price of automobiles an additional tax of $20 will be levied. Motorcycles will be taxed $5 a year. The tax on the use of automobiles and motorcycles is expected to yield about $125,000,000.

The tax on manufacturers and importers of automobiles gross sales fixed at 10 per cent previous agreed upon is estimated as capable of yielding an additional $70,000,000.

Tax of 2 cents a gallon on the production of gasoline also was decided upon by the committee yesterday. It is estimated this tax will turn $45,000,000 into the treasury annually.

AIRPLANE RESULTS.

The people who have complained so bitterly because the aircraft work of the army did not meet full expectations, have failed to measure the magnitude of the enormous task. Just think of what we had to do. Compare it with other developments in our industrial history.

Take the automobile industry for instance. We began developing motor cars about the year 1895. There was a period of experiment, and the first cars began to run around the country in about five years. Then we were 18 years more getting the industry up to its present proportions.

When we began to make airplanes, we had no tools, machines, or trained workmen. The whole thing had to be built from nothing, from the ground up. We were asked to do in a year or two what the automobile industry had done in twenty years. It was an impossible task. Many difficulties were encountered that no one dreamed of.

The aircraft board has been greatly blamed because it did not adopt existing models and produce them. This war is a race to see which side shall produce the best equipment. It is necessary to keep improving on old equipment. If we had simply contented ourselves with the old standards, the Germans would have distanced us. Our aircraft heads locked on farther, and decided that to be a real factor in the war, we must make some original contribution of our own. That they were right is suggested by the approval the French and English experts have already given to our Liberty motor. We shall have an engine enough better to pay for waiting for it.

So let us not be too hasty to condemn the men who are giving their best efforts to the war work. Much of the criticism will vanish when the results of the patient effort of our technical men begin to show themselves.

INDUSTRIAL HARMONY.

Let us consider the tendencies that promote industrial dissension. First, as respects the capitalist; second, as respects the wage earner.

The capitalist is frequently too indifferent to the welfare of the employee class. Being comfortable himself, he imagines that every one else is too. He does not know what a struggle it is to get along in any decent fashion on the present cost of living. He does not realize to what a large extent his success is due to the patient fidelity of his workpeople. He owes so much to them, that when prosperity comes, he should give them an additional share.

The capitalist often takes the position that his business is his alone, to do with absolutely as he chooses, regardless of community interest. He forgets how the institution of private property came about. According to all laws and precedents, the community has complete control over private property. It has permitted the individual to hold private property, because the prosperity of the community as a whole can in that way be advanced.

The community then having given the individual the right to keep his earnings and enjoy his private property, it is up to the individual to exercise this right in a way to benefit the community that gives him the right. If he doesn't, he encourages the growth of harmful socialistic agitation.

A business man ought not to say, therefore, that he has a right to manage his own business just as he pleases, regardless of community interest. The most successful business today are those in which the capitalist recognizes his obligation to the community, and tries to run his business so that it is a benefit to the community and to every one who works for him.

FIRST STEP IN BUSINESS.

School and college recently graduated their new army of recruits to the world of work. It is now up to them to demonstrate that the years spent in study have been useful. They have acquired certain knowledge of the world's experience, history, and wisdom. But to make that knowledge and effort worthwhile, they must show results in greater efficiency and in good citizenship.

If one were asked to counsel a young person just taking a business position, this might be said: No matter if you have a very humble job, try to think how it can be done to the very best advantage. If you are merely sweeping up the floor, try to get that floor cleaner than other places in town.

Don't spend time figuring how you can get advancement through pulls or friendship. The best way is to put your whole mental power on the job that you have. Try to see if there is any better way to do it. Talk with people who have held the job before, or who do similar work elsewhere, and see if they can give you any ideas.

The new worker should try to remember and grasp completely all instructions. Many novices in business can't get an idea merely from being told. They have to do a thing by habit. It is irritating to do it by habit. It is irritating to employers and superintendents to have to tell people the same thing over and over again. If you have trouble in remembering instructions, try putting them down on paper when they are fresh in your mind. Then reflect on them and see that you know them completely.

The reason why many people fail, is that they are unable to concentrate attention. Their minds are full of outside interests. But the person who devotes his whole attention to his job is pretty sure to get a better one before long.

Instead of spending so much time growing because the army does not get ready to fight faster, why not look around and see if some soldier would not fight better from knowing that his family at home was getting help.

The people who complain because the government does not get out an enormous stock of trinitrotoluol, are often the same ones who can neither even spell or pronounce the word.

The people who complain of the dust and confusion on the automobile roads Sunday, are often the same ones who were too tired to go to church.

RUSSIA'S ECONOMIC PLIGHT.

(Pittsburgh Gazette Times.) An investigation of economic and hygienic conditions in Russia indicates that that unhappy nation is threatened by an unprecedented calamity unless aid is speedily forthcoming. Lord Robert Cecil, the newly-appointed assistant foreign secretary of Great Britain, says that quite good judges have informed him that the death roll in Russia this winter may reach 20,000,000. He is careful to say that he does not sponsor this estimate, but he has the strongest reasons for saying that "only by our aid can Russia live." Here is a country that in pre-war times was more nearly self-supporting than any other in Europe. It raised a large surplus of wheat for export, and its oil production was an important factor in the fuel situation. Today millions of its own people, the hungry, hundreds of thousands are literally starving, and in some sections large populations have been unable to obtain clothing since the beginning of the war. Shortly before the revolution, when it was still possible to receive private letters from the empire, conditions were bad enough among the poorer classes. For example, small Pittsburgh merchant, the families of whose brothers and sisters were living in Russia, learned that during the winter of 1916-17 a single pair of boots did service for all. He sent monetary relief from his meager store, but never knew whether or not it reached its destination.

Recent cable dispatches from neutral countries have referred to the ravages of disease in Russia, and Cecil declares that Asiatic cholera and typhus in all its forms are raging in some of the larger centers of population. Considering the weakened physical condition of the people through lack of proper nourishment the mortality must be frightfully high. Students of other great wars have confidently predicted that the world's greatest battle after the present struggle is ended will be against pestilence, and it is not impossible that the seeds now germinating in Russia will result in that dreaded harvest. The difficulty of rendering outside assistance lies mainly in the absence of any stable government in Russia, and in the additional fact that any supplies sent are liable to be seized by the Central powers for their own urgent needs. Russia's present economic plight is certainly as deplorable as her political woes.

WOMEN AS PULLMAN PORTERS.

(Charlotte Observer.) Leslie Gilbert, Federal farm help expert for Alabama, has advanced a suggestion that is destined to take root. It is for the substitution of women for the Pullman car negro men porters. Aside from the reasons Gilbert has made, this substitution will appeal to the general public not only on the score of making for greater cleanliness, but it would be a move distinctly to the convenience and comfort of an overlooked class—the women travelers. The thought has no doubt often occurred to men travelers that one need of the Pullman company is a more appropriate form of service for the women who travel, many of necessity unaccompanied by male relatives or friends, and who have frequently encountered some embarrassment by reason of the absence of a maid. Brought down to the final analysis, Pullman service is distinctly the province of female help. It would be a blessing to have this substitution made if only that the men travelers should be relieved of the moral duty of tipping the porter for the smattering smell on his shoes that passes for a "shine."

THE KAISER'S BOSWELL.

(New York World.) How stale and flat was the chronicle of the war before Karl Rosner, the Kaiser's favorite correspondent, devoted his poetic pen to it! Previously we had from German sources only a barren record of events; now we are taken behind the scenes at German headquarters to view the war with the eyes of the All-Highest. We see the Kaiser picking violets in the fields of carnage, observe how his heart bleeds for devastated France and learn of his "daring flights of fancy" as he meditates on a peace which will "make deserts blossom like the rose." We are today admitted to the imperial presence at the beginning of the present offensive when "the emperor listened to the terrible orchestra of the surprise-attack and looked upon the unparalleled picture of the projectiles raging toward the enemy positions."

It is a rare privilege. Does the unskilled world appreciate its debt to this interpreter of the emotions and sensations of the All-Highest? Rosner has been called the Kaiser's boswell, but he is more than that. He is his Plutarch and Tacitus and Herodotus all in one, and gifted besides with a knowledge of the psychology of the imperial mind which enables him to divine his innermost thought. What a different book Caesar's "Commentaries" might have been if the Roman dictator had had a Rosner for his amanuensis! He, indeed, makes the waste places of the war to blossom like the rose and his flights of fancy beat those of Pegasus himself.

The Ohio War Board Says Today

The war is relegating the "tired business man" joke to the back seat with the "mother-in-law" joke.

In Portsmouth, Ohio, business men by the dozen are closing down their desks for a day or a week, in some cases, and going into the country to help the farmers harvest their crops.

A business men's organization keeps a record of the farmers needing help and assigns business men to places where they are needed. These business men are paid for their services by the farmers and the plan is reported to be working fine.

City men in other sections of the State are spending their vacations this year in the harvest field with profit to themselves and rendering real service to the Nation.

That carmine was first prepared by a Franciscan monk at Pisa? He discovered it accidentally while compounding some medicine containing cochineal. Carmine is a beautiful red pigment obtained from cochineal and is employed in the manufacture of the finer red inks, in the dyeing of silk, in coloring artificial flowers, and in miniature and water-color painting. It began to be manufactured in 1656. In the preparation of carmine much depends on a clear, sunny atmosphere, as the color is never so good when it is prepared in dull weather.

"WE ARE AMERICANS."

(Providence Journal.) Mr. Schwab did not indulge in a mere rhetorical phrase when he told the Latin-American diplomats who had visited Hog Island to see our largest shipbuilding plant in operation that "we are no more North Americans and South Americans—we are Americans."

The war has brought all or nearly all the American republics into a sense of closer relationship. It has revealed to them their common danger and the common need of exerting themselves against it. The former era of suspicion and distrust is practically at an end, in spite of German propagandist attempting to stir the old embers into flame. The aspirations of the United States are seen to be purely altruistic in the world conflict. We are not bent on territorial aggrandizement. We have no designs upon our neighbors, except the design of an increased friendship and commerce, and they have come to appreciate the fact.

Argentina has not yet formally entered the war. There is still, indeed, a strong faction in the republic favorable to Germany. Yet Ambassador Naon, who will be remembered as having made a graceful and eloquent address at Providence four years ago, took occasion at Hog Island to declare: "I consider that your success is our success; that your welfare is our welfare, and your glory is also our glory." As Señor Naon has lately come back from Buenos Aires he must be entirely conversant with present political opinion there, so that his words are particularly welcome.

Ambassador Da Gama of Brazil, echoed Señor Naon's words. He said: "We will not fail, when this visit is finished, to convey to our government the expression of admiration for the work done here and our assurance that our national and international hopes are going to be a reality." Brazil is already our active ally.

We are building a great fleet first of all for the uses of war—to help in the destruction of Germany's insatiable ambitions. But these many hundred ships will serve a beneficial purpose in the coming days of peace, and a large proportion of them should be employed to bind us and our southern neighbors more intimately together. We have strangely neglected in years past our friends below the isthmus, and it is impossible to think that when the war is over, we shall persist in that neglect.

Parlor-car travel has already been cut heavily by the higher rates. The Railroad Administration in this matter may discover that it has overreached itself. The public is willing to pay a reasonable advance if shown the necessity, but is prompt to protest itself against those it considers unreasonable, particularly when it can figure out means of doing without or getting around the regulations, even if it does entail a little inconvenience and delay.

THE SPREADER COMES FIRST

NOTHING in America is more important than the success of the 1918 crop. Of all the means at the farmer's command for increasing the crop, a good manure spreader easily comes first. It requires no addition of power or help, in fact it saves time and labor. It increases the yield from every acre in which it is properly used. This is the year, and this is the month to buy and begin to use a

LOW CLOVERLEAF MANURE SPREADER

The Low Cloverleaf is a wide spreading, easy running, light running, light draft, narrow box spreader, made in three handy sizes—small, medium and large. The wide spreading device catches the manure as it comes from the beater, breaks it up into still finer particles, and throws it out beyond the wheel tracks in a wide, even spread. This is the kind of fertilizing recommended by all the authorities.

The entire load is spread in 3 to 5 minutes. The machine runs easily and lasts a long time because the working parts are all securely fastened to a sturdy steel frame which keeps them all in place and in line.

Seventeen Thousand Dollars An Hour For Four Days

Licking county has more than a half million dollars worth of War Savings Stamps to buy before going "over the top." A four-day campaign, starting next Tuesday, has been planned by the Licking County War Work Organization of 500 men. These men will give their best efforts to this patriotic work on August 6, 7, 8 and 9. Working eight hours every day for the four days, it means they must sell $17,000 worth of War Savings Stamps every hour in order to reach the goal.

Total cash sales to date in this county are $706,325. The year's quota is $20 for every person, or $1,236,180 for Licking county.

Licking county school children up to the close of school in June led the state in their purchase of Thrift and War Savings Stamps, and at the present time this county has more members of the $1000 War Savings Society than any county in Ohio. Notwithstanding these facts, the county has more than a half million dollars worth of W. S. S. to sell, and everybody is to be asked to buy his or her share. No matter if you have been buying stamps, buy more next week and help to put Licking over the top.

Knox, Morgan, Ashland and Morrow counties have already bought their whole year's quota of War Stamps. Help to put Licking in this class next week. Three hundred and twenty-one Licking county people are now members of the "Limit Club," having bought 200 $5 stamps. Are you in? The August price is $4.19 for one stamp, $83.80 for 20 stamps, $838 for 200 stamps.

Remember that the best investment in the world today is W. S. S. It is not taxable, absolutely safe, pays 4.27% interest, and the government agrees to pay the money back any time, both principal and interest, upon ten days' notice. Every owner of a War Savings Stamp has a mortgage on the United States.

Get ready for the War Work Organization solicitors next week. Buy all of the stamps you can. Uncle Sam must have the money to win this war. In buying stamps you are giving nothing away—simply loaning your money to Uncle Sam at a fat rate of interest. Help put Licking county in the "Over the Top" class.

AUDITORIUM

Enid Bennett.
The Auditorium is glad to announce to its patrons and friends that commencing with the matinee today and running over Friday, Miss Enid Bennett, the remarkable young actress, will be here to appear in the Paramount Picture "The Keys of the Righteous." Miss Bennett is an English girl, having been born in Australia. She was brought under a government and at a finishing school and then secretly aspired to the footlights. The opportunity came when she was introduced to Katherine Gray who assisted her in an engagement as "Modesty" in "Evening" when it was only a short time after that Miss Bennett signed a contract with Thomas H. Ince to appear under his direction as a Paramount star in "The Keys of the Righteous," which will open today. She plays the part of Mary Manning, a role that will make you love her better

Songs." "Hick-Boola-Boo." "You'll Come Back." "The Dangerous Girl and Desperate Guy." "She's Dangerous to Know." "Cleopatra." "I'm Going to Follow the Boys." "We're All Going Calling on the Kaiser." "Highland Bonnie." "Who's Lovin' You." "Are You?" etc. Among the specialties to be heard and seen is Miss Jean Head said to be the world's greatest saxophone artist who will be heard in numbers on this, her favorite instrument. The matinee given Saturday is popular priced one and no doubt will be well attended. The prices are within reach of all, with seats now selling.

Auditorium Notes.

"Tarzan of the Apes" is a wonderful photoplay, wherever presented has broken records. Two week's ago at the Majestic theatre, Columbus, this feature broke all previous records, drawing over $5,000 in receipts. When shown in New York the police reserves wonderful gowns, etc., are sure to please her many Newark friends.

ALHAMBRA.

Friday and Saturday.
"Beatrice" is all altogether charming young person and the singing of Beatrice is no mean an easer-singer. There is plenty of competition, as that hustling young advertising man, Robert Howard, finds in "The Winning of May Allison" is a girl of the most approved type but when the time comes for her to show her metal, she quickly becomes a self-reliant, radiant young woman, with a real head for business.

The fact that Beatrice is a business success, (candy-making is her specialty) does not prevent her from being an adorable creature. You know Beatrice not only supports herself, but she makes the head of a big trust come to her terms, and she succeeds in clearing her father's name.

Chances of victory life are contrasted with the homes of the rich men who own these factories, and different phases of modern society are shown in this vital photodrama, illuminated by the beauty of the popular young star.

Monday and Tuesday.

"True Blue" with William Farnum as the star, at the Alhambra theatre is a tremendous story of an American ranchman who renounces a coronet and a rightfully belongs to him in order to remain true to his native land, the girl he loves and incidentally to the noble blood that is in his veins.

This unusual film romance is the product of the Wm. Fox Western studios and is one of the best-acted pictures that have been turned out by this prolific producer. It is instinct with Americanism of the "rough-and-ready" type and in this picture he proves that the traditions and ideals of our ancestors have not perished. It will make a better patriot of every spectator; so see it.

GEM.

As Isabella of Spain pawned her jewels that the madcap mariner of German might sail uncharted seas, so did Constance Mervin in the Broadway Scandal" which comes to the Grand theatre on Friday, auction off her jewelry to a gay party of theatre-folk for the cause of democracy.

Then comes the tax, the delightful photoplay in which Miss Mervin is soon at her best, she returns to a little French cafe of her father's from which he turned her away after a wild night in a stolen machine. She returns as a thieving star of the stage.

As she stands on a chair to tell them of her happiness, her slipper falls to the floor. It is passed as a collection plate for war funds. It is shown at the Gem theatre on Friday.

GRAND.

Government War Pictures.
At the Grand tonight and tomorrow after a German Drive—British soldiers fresh from fighting fraternize with their French comrades. The mounted troops to the rear. Munition trains bring up shells and big guns.

The field artillery prepares up munitions. Thousands of German prisoners are marched to the rear.

As the men in the village under fire, Austrian positions on V. V. Peak as they appear from an Italian post. Italian guns in action. Italian batteries throwing a curtain of fire to cover the retreat, passing through the barbed wire. The Italian capture a position on V. V. Peak.

The wounded and the dead. Austrian prisoners. American artillery. The "cruel" war is given to a wounded American hero in the hospital.

Lyman Howe's famous pictures, always a welcome visitor to Newark, will come early in September for its first engagement, playing two days, during New's most interesting features are the latest New York hits, some being "Liberty Bell," "They Are All Without Us," "Step Out Jim," "Some Sunday Morning," "Story Book Ball," "Typical Topical."

Laurel and Hardy, the comedy team, are the latest Select Pictures Corp., comes to the Auditorium next week, and is to be one of her best photoplays.

A large cast, elaborate stage settings, card, returned American prisoner, almost led to Jeanette Gontreau's imprisonment as a spy yesterday.

Jeanette Gontreau, a stenographer, obtained the names of three young allied soldiers who were prisoners in his discovery, he waited until his exchange was affected and returning to New York conveyed his suspicions to the federal authorities.

The latest letters of Miss Gontreau were received yesterday, and when Jeanette heard that Mr. Ledvard was coming to see her she got a case of stage fright.

On the advice of a Mrs. Tibbets in her office, she disguised herself as the mother grandmother of a left over for $6. She had disengaged herself to be Mr. Ledvard was much charmed with her and somewhat regretted his hasty formed conclusion that she was an agent of the Central Powers. His latest letter, however, to his employer, Frederick Armstrong, and a careful watch of the latter's movements led to the establishment of the fact that Armstrong had been the traitor using Miss Gontreau as a decoy to dispatch his messages to Germany.

Jeanette, caught without her disguise, was brought to headquarters, the revelation of her youth proving an astonishing surprise to Ledvard. A trap was set for the traitor, who confessed his guilt and was promptly locked up.

Miss Gontreau was exonerated, and now love is laughing at gray hairs and wrinkles.

"The Flames of Chance" is the Triangle production containing this story, and is an adaptation of the famous story which appeared in the Ladies' Home Journal under the title of "The Three Goddesses of Jeanette Gontreau," by Francis W. Sullivan. It is a decidedly novel and gripping play with unusual situations and dramatic suspense. The picture will be shown at the Grand Theatre on Thursday and Friday.

Recommending "Neutone
Prescription 99."

"Neutone Prescription 99" in a few days will permanently limber up and remove all aches and pains that none except a rheumatic sufferer. The most skeptical persons have at once become its warmest endorsers.

As a relieved patient expressed it, "You can distinctly feel a modification of stiffness in your joints and muscles."

"Neutone Prescription 99" acts in a mysterious manner that is almost uncheckable, when in fact it immediately relieves the most obstinate cases of rheumatism.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Carson of East Main street, received a letter from their son, Corporal Wm. E. Carson of Battery D, 324 H. F. A., American Expeditionary Forces via New York who is with the 83d Division which sailed a month ago.

Wednesday Somewhere in France, June 27, 1918.

My Dearest Mother and Dad and all will write a few lines while in camp for a few days. I have been feeling just fine since we left the states and hope this finds you all well. I mailed you a letter when we first landed so let me know if you got it. News is plentiful but can not tell you so please excuse these letters; I will write every chance I get; we have been kept on the move all the time so don't worry when you don't hear from me. I will do the best under the circumstances; don't put off your writing as I will be anxious to hear from you often with all of the late news. Talk about sights I sure have seen them and not half yet. I just finished shaving and cleaning up and feel fine. I have just begun to get on to the many parts of their ways and it is queer. Was tired this morning after a long hike and did not have much sleep the night before. I am waiting for the mail that is on the road for me. The children are crazy for you to give them something. It is real funny to hear the different people talk; every thing was just the opposite from what I was expecting. The news you get is just half of it Frank is in the best branch of the war. Dad I wish you could see these railroads over here you could put three of these box cars in one of yours; the engines are small but smooth riding. Well all I can say is Hello Bill, Sister and Helen. This is all but if you have any thing to write be sure and do it. They don't raise half the stuff over here as you do in the good old U. S. A. The weather is cool all the time. Today is supposed to be hot and a coat feels good. I am going to get an order from the captain for some things I want you to send me and want a pair of good boots and some money, etc., but don't send anything unless you get this order for I won't get it. Well mother dear and all I will close with best wishes and good luck to you all and give my best to all my friends. Good by, your Soldier Boy.

The following extracts are taken from letters of Captain Don Caldwell of Greenfield, and a brother-in-law of Mrs. J. A. Hottle, 179 South Fifth street, this city, Captain Caldwell having been gassed on the firing-line in France:

"I suppose that you have noticed that I have been wounded, but all I received was just a little gas. I am in the base hospital now with Lieutenant Duncan and two other men from Co. G. We are both feeling o.k. and did not want to come here but had to anyway. It is a very beautiful place here. It was a famous summer resort and our government has rented all the hotels and made hospitals out of them. By reason of rank I have a room by myself, but would rather be with some one to talk to.

"We have been very busy the past week or two and our regiment had quite a number of casualties. The big offensive is still on and I think it will change soon. * * * I have been on liquid diet for 48 hours—eggnog, milk and tea, but could eat a horse right now.

"We were being shelled and our front line was under very heavy fire, when we received order to form our companies and take up our position. We already had a gas alarm and had put on our masks, but did not smell any so removed mine and called all the men, who were upstairs and not affected. On again going through town I detected a peculiar odor like pineapple, a sweetened smell (phosgene gas) and put my mask on and it lost one eye piece out. I immediately changed masks and went on. In half an hour was very sick and vomiting; eyes smarting and lungs burning. The doctor sent me to the hospital and outside of a slight headache I am all right now, not enough to do any harm. * * * The company is doing fine and right up on their toes looking for Germans. We did not lose a man the last time in the trenches, which we are mighty thankful for. I suppose I will be here for four or five days yet."

June 8 the captain writes:

"Just completed my very elaborate supper of milk and am quite satisfied. My lungs were affected slightly and that I would have to remain here for some time. I may be able to go down stairs in about two weeks, which is a long time. I feel pretty weak and shaky yet, but that is all. * * * The doctors and nurses here are very kind and do everything they can for us. The nurses are middle-aged; the younger ones are nearer the front. This place is near the center of France and very beautiful and quiet, at least we don't hear the big guns, which is a relief. * * * There are a lot of Americans here now and all doing their bit in stopping the Germans and are quite successful."

On Sunday, June 9, he writes:

"Just worked the boy out of two suppers and so feel pretty good. I was put on light diet today and get a little more to eat. Feel pretty good, but the doctor won't let me get up for several days yet, and I will have to stay here under observation for quite a while yet. It won't be so bad when I can walk around, but I am still short of breath. Lieutenant Duncan is in the same room now, and it is company for us both."

Under date of June 12, the captain writes:

"We are allowed to be up a little today and we are mighty glad as it is quite a relief. It is surprising how weak and short-winded I feel. Hope to go down to our meals in a few days, but the doctor said we must be very careful and we are not taking any chances. Sergeant Cope came over yesterday to see us. You know he had a broken leg, but is able to use it now."

On June 13, Captain Caldwell wrote that "we will be here about three weeks and then rejoin our outfit."

On June 14 he writes:

"The doctor just told me that I could go down to the dining room tomorrow, and am mighty pleased. It is very lonesome and the days are so long. * * * Several of the officers were over yesterday to pay us a visit and brought the news from the regiment. We will move over to a new front but don't know where, and I hope to be able to go with them."

A LIBERAL OFFER BY LICKING CREAMERY COMPANY

To the Users of Milk and Cream From its Retail Wagons.

The Licking Creamery Company begins to announce that until further notice it will make a regular monthly award of two (2) $1.00 sheets of milk tickets upon each of its retail milk wagon routes to private consumers of milk and cream throughout the city.

The awards will be made on the 15th day of each month.

A duplicate receipt stub from every sheet of tickets sold during the preceding month will be placed in a box from which the stubs to receive awards will be drawn by a disinterested party. Each route will be handled separately.

THERE IS BUT ONE CONDITION QUALIFYING THESE AWARDS.

All competitors must have their accounts with the Licking Creamery Company paid in full for the month preceding the one in which any given drawing occurs.

In other words, should a duplicate of one of your ticket receipt stubs be drawn on the 15th of one month it would not receive an award unless your account was paid in full for the month preceding.

This is absolutely the only requirement made, thereby characterizing this proposition as being extremely clean cut and liberal.

We hope it will please the public. Watch for the next drawing. Your name may be among the fortunate ones to be announced in the papers following the next drawing.

THE LICKING CREAMERY CO.

Elmwood Court

UNIQUE OLD TIMES

Town Meetings Not Just as They Used to Be.

Possibly It is an Improvement, but Reminiscent Citizen Seemed to Speak With a Certain Tinge of Regret.

"How did town meeting go this year?" inquired Capt. Dudley Patterson, just home from a voyage and coming to headquarters for information of what had happened of interest while he had been away.

"W-w-a-a-a-l, Cap'n," began Grindle the storekeeper, "th' annual meeting of the legal voters of this town, to meet an' act upon certain articles to-wit, namely, ain't nothing' what it used to be. Times is changed wonderfully, 'specially since the war broke out."

"Town meet'n' nowadays is gettin' to be as decorous as th' Bible class which meets in th' small vestry directly after preachin' services, to which all adults are invited."

"They ain't no winders broke, nor no stove tipped over, nor the mod'rator don't have to suspend consideration of article 21 while he goes down on th' floor an' impresses some citizen as to proper parliamentary procedure by bangin' him over th' head with a caulkin' mallet, used in more peaceful, moments as a gavel."

"Yes, I see it done," put in Captain Patterson with a chuckle. "It used to take an able man to do the mod'ratin'."

"They was times," continued Grindle, "when a woman couldn't go by on 'other side of the street from the town hall without stickin' both fingers in her ears, but this year there was a row of 'em linin' th' gallery an' all listerin', an' lookin' on an' knittin'. We've got a woman on the school board—think o' that!"

"Th' battle of Umpdediddy wan't nothin' to some o' th' violent collisions between the Boashelors from the upper end o' th' valley an' the clambers from down on th' cape—but they ain't nothin' like that now. Th' hatchet is buried in a carefully marked spot."

"An' what do you think, cap'n, they opened up th' meetin' with prayer, an' a slick prayer it was, at that. Elder Bates o' the Baptists church, he prayed for 'Pir' Pollard, th' mod'rator—that he might preside over th' deliberations with wisdom an' judgment. It ain't on record that ol' Pollard was ever prayed for before—not that way. Th' elder prayed for 'most everybody an' everything an', then for who or what he might have left out."

"Well, wasn't it a better town meeting than the old-fashioned kind?" inquired Cap'n Patterson.

"W-w-a-a-a-l, I suppose it was, in speakin' o' results an' good bizzness proceedin's; but there seemed t' be somethin' lackin'—this war has upset many old an' time-honored institutions, somehow."—Boston Globe.

Two Brave Marines.

On the first day of February, 1918, there was an explosion in a seaplane hangar on an aviation field near Washington. The explosion started a fire which set ablaze the clothing of a chief petty officer of the navy. The death of the petty officer and the destruction of the costly hangar were imminent. Privates William R. Lawton and Raymond J. Burns, United States marines from the Washington navy yard, were on duty nearby. Arming themselves with fire extinguishers, they dashed to the rescue. The life of the petty officer was saved and the destruction of the hangar prevented. Secretary Daniels wrote a personal letter to each of the marines, commanding him for his coolness and presence of mind in the face of sudden danger. Private Lawton enlisted in the marine corps on August 4, 1914, at Norfolk, Va. Private Burns joined the soldiers of the sea at Philadelphia on July 21, 191

Charles P. O'Neill Is Candidate For Sheriff

Charles O'Neill, the genial restaurateur, and he came here to live. He quit restaurant keeper at 37 South Second railroading 15 years ago. His acquaintances are of the lasting kind, and that is why so many people speak kindly of Charles O'Neill. After he quit the road he engaged in business in this city and about five years ago he decided to enter the restaurant business which he has continued in a manner that has won him scores of new friends and a splendid officer.

He is the son of the late Thomas O'Neill, and was born in Erie, Pennsylvania, about 42 years ago. He has been a life-long Republican, and after his school days were over, and he kindly solicits your vote in the primaries on August 13, for the services of the B. & O. mail, the office of sheriff of Licking County. If you can see your way over several times he decided that his power to fill the bill in straight "this is the town I want to live in," forward and capable manner.

SILVER BUSINESS ANNIVERSARY OF BAKING CONCERN

Twenty-five years ago today Wm. Butler, one of the city's best known business men, opened a small bakery at 206 Eddy street. At that time he employed one baker and delivered bread, cakes, etc., with one wagon.

Mr. Butler kept abreast with the times and saw the necessity for modern and improved machinery and sanitary methods in the conduct of his business and kept installing the same until his bakery was a model of perfection and pronounced one of the best in Central Ohio.

His constantly increasing business soon demanded the enlargement of his bakery and he built a new one in East Church with all modern improvements. He now employs several delivery trucks and wagons and after the war will be compelled to install further delivery wagons.

Mr. Butler was lately appointed a Lieutenant inspector of Licking County, his duties being to inspect all bakeries and see that the regulations of the government are being carried out.

CELEBRATES HIS 100TH ANNIVERSARY AT FAMILY REUNION

Today at Moundbuilders park, the family, relatives and friends of John Miller Hartfield, of this city, who was 100 years old last February, will assemble to assist him in reaching an age attained by few. It is also the occasion of the Hartfield-Hartman reunion.

Mr. Hartfield lives with his daughter, Mrs. C. W. Cunningham, in Central City, and until a year ago last February enjoyed good health. He then suffered a fall and has been bedfast ever since, but will be taken to the park today in a machine and made comfortable there so he may mingle with his family. In spite of his illness his mind remains clear and he has an extraordinarily retentive memory.

He was born in Harrisburg, Pa., February 17, 1818, and with his parents, William and Mary Lee Hartfield, and his nine sisters and brothers, emigrated overland by team in 1825, settling nine miles from Zanesville. For 50 years he lived in Corning, Perry county, where he was actively engaged in business.

He was married in 1838 to Alice Conway Darnell, a southern girl of the old Virginian families, who also came over the mountains by team and settled in Licking county. To this union nine children were born and all reared, large families, no deaths occurring until the brother passed away 21 years ago.

The children now living are: Charles Hartfield of Corning, L. H. Hartfield and J. W. Hartfield of Newark. Mrs. E. B. Bogle of Leon, Kas., J. M. Hartfield of Independence, Kas., and Mrs. C. W. Cunningham of Central City, west of Newark. In addition to several nieces and nephews whose ages range between 60 and 90, 43 grandchildren, 108 great-grandchildren, and 18 great-great-grandchildren comprising five generations.

Mr. Hartfield went to live at the home of his daughter about two years ago.

The many members of the family are enjoying a delightful outing and reunion of the many relatives. A delicious dinner was served at the noon hour.

WOMEN GIVE OUT

Housework is hard enough when healthy. Every Newark woman who is having backache, blue and nervous spells, dizzy headaches and kidney or bladder troubles, should be glad to heed this Newark woman's experience:

Mrs. Chan Gartner, 131 South Second street, says: "About a year ago my back gave me a great deal of trouble. I couldn't sweep my house, wash or iron but what I suffered severely from dull pains across the small of my back. I often had to go and sit down and leave my work undone. Another of the family had been helped so much by Doan's Kidney Pills that I bought some at Evans' drug store. They benefited me right from the start and I kept on using them until they cured me completely." (Statement given September 15, 1914).

LASTING RESULTS.
On February 7, 1917, Mrs. Gartner said: "I gladly praise Doan's Kidney Pills again. The cure they made for me when I was suffering from kidney trouble has been permanent."

AMERICAN BOY WITH CANADIANS LOST RIGHT ARM

Mr. Charles Colville, master of the grange, presided at the patriotic meeting in the Eden township house at Penitry last night. There was a good attendance. The speakers were Clyde I. Thompson, wounded Canadian soldier, and C. H. Spencer. Mr. Thompson who lost his right arm in fighting with the Canadians in France a year ago, received an honorable discharge from the service a few days ago. His discharge papers read "Character and conduct very good." Mr. Thompson who is here with Mrs. Thompson stopping at the New Arcade Hotel will speak at the Newark high school auditorium tonight. Thompson is an American citizen who was working in Dots in 1916 when he enlisted in the Canadian infantry. He was in England and France for 11 months and was in the "thick of the fight."

At Jacksonstown last night an interesting program was given by Rev. A. B. Cox, M. R. Scott, Frank Strean and Robt. Kline.

Rodene Jones spoke in Madison township.

Night meetings are to be held as follows: Jersey, H. C. Ashcraft, Fallsburg, G. B. Schmitt, Homer, C. L. H. Long; Perry, J. R. Fitzgibbon, Liberty, Geo. H. Hamilton; Mary Ann, E. S. Randolph.

As a meeting of the township chairmen is to be held in Newark tomorrow night no county meetings are scheduled.

On Saturday night Rev. G. B. Schmitt will speak at Utica. Senator J. H. Miller in Bowling Green, J. R. Fitzgibbon in Johnstown. A meeting is also to be held in Gratiot Saturday night. A meeting will be held Sunday evening in McLean township and F. L. Beegs will speak in the Hebron M. E. church Sunday night. Dr. Edwards will speak in the M. E. church at Appleton Monday night Aug. 5. These meetings are in the interest of the W. S. S. campaign which starts August 6. Licking county has over a half million dollars worth of stamps to sell.

CERTIFICATES MUST NOT BE PRESENTED BY THE CHILDREN

Sugar certificates presented at the mayor's office by children will not be O. K. by Mayor Atherton. The regulation requires that after the first 25 pounds of sugar for canning have been secured that additional amounts must have the O. K. of a member of the food conservation board. People have been sending their children with certificates to have them O. K. but permission cannot be given this way, as the questioning of the children proves unsatisfactory.

In order to facilitate the distribution of the certificates the mayors of the small adjoining towns have been authorized to O. K. the sugar certificates.

RUSSIANS AGREE TO TERRITORIAL CHANGE

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAPH

Amsterdam, Aug. 1.—The Russian government has agreed that Livonia and Esthonia shall be separated from Russia as a result of negotiations between Germany and the soviet government, says the Berlin correspondent of the Strasburg Post. Consequently, he adds, there probably will be a change in the organization of the territory occupied by the Germans. Courland also will be separated from the administrative territory of the German commander in chief in the east and will be united with Livonia and Esthonia.

ASKS FOR 700,000,000 POUNDS.

London, Aug. 1.—In asking for a note of credit of 700,000,000 pounds, in the house of common today, Andrew Bonar Law, the chancellor of the exchequer, said that the largeness of the amount was not due to increased expenditures, but to the fact that parliament was about to adjourn. He hoped, he said, that not more than one more vote would be necessary before the end of the fiscal year.

GENERAL'S SLATED FOR VICTORY ARMY

Brig. Gen. R. E. Wood.

Gen. R. E. Wood is acting head of the quartermaster corps in Washington. He is said to be slated for an important assignment in France soon. General Wood was brought back from France when General Goethals became head of the quartermaster corps.

BULLETIN SAVES MUCH TIME

Government's Official Newspaper, Answering Questions, Obliviates Loss of Time of Correspondents.

Owing to the enormous increase of government war work the governmental departments at Washington are being flooded with letters of inquiry on every conceivable subject concerning the war, and it has been found a physical impossibility for the clerks, though they number an army in themselves now, to give many of these letters proper attention and reply. There is published daily at Washington, under authority of and by direction of the president, a government newspaper, the Official Bulletin. This paper prints every day all of the important rulings, decisions, regulations, proclamations, orders, etc., as they are promulgated by the different departments and the many special committees and agencies now in operation at the national capital. This official journal is posted each day in every post office in the United States, more than 56,000 in number, and may also be found at all libraries, boards of trade, chambers of commerce, and the offices of mayors, governors, and federal officials.

By consulting these files most questions will be found readily answered; there will be little necessity for letter writing; the unnecessary congestion of the mails will be appreciably relieved; the railroads will be called upon to move fewer correspondence sacks; and the mass of business that is piling up in the government departments will be eased considerably. Hundreds of clerks now answering correspondence will be enabled to give their time to essentially important war work, and a fundamentally patriotic service will have been performed by the public.

HOW TO MAKE POTATO BUTTER

BRITISH MINISTRY OF FOOD GIVES TIME
TO STUDYING OUT PLANS TO CON-SERVE THE SUPPLY.

The ministry of food states that in view of the shortage of butter they have been carrying out experiments in order to find suitable and economical ways of eking out the available butter and margarine supplies by mixing in other food substances and so producing cheap and palatable substitutes, says the London Times. These experiments have shown that an excellent "potato butter," costing only about 5d per pound (or less if margarine is used) can easily be made in any household without special knowledge or apparatus in accordance with the following recipe:

Peel the potatoes and boil (or steam) until they fall to pieces and become flowery. Rub through a fine sieve into a large basin which has been previously warmed. To every 14 ounces of mashed potato add two ounces of butter or margarine and one teaspoonful of salt. Stir thoroughly with the back of a wooden spoon until the whole is quite smooth. The butter may then be made up into pounds or half-pounds and kept in cool place.

The potato butter may be improved in appearance by the addition of a few drops of butter coloring, and if it is to be kept for more than a few days butter preservative, of which there are several forms on the market, should be used.

The amount should be in accordance with the printed instructions on the packet for use in butter. Both the coloring and the preservative should be well mixed into the potato at the same time as the butter and salt. If these directions are carefully followed potato butter will keep for a considerable time.

SIAM ADOPTS NEW FLAG.

Siam's white elephant flag is to be abandoned for the red, white and blue colors of democracy. Commenting on this, the Christian Science Monitor says:

"In spite of the fine feeling of enthusiasm for the allied cause which it shows, one cannot but be sorry that Siam should have decided to discard her own splendidly original flag, showing a white elephant on a red field, for a tricolor resembling that of the great entente powers of the west. Siam sees in the red, white and blue flag the colors which throughout the world stand as a rallying sign against barbarism." It is quite interesting to find that red, white and blue do as a matter of fact figure in the national flags of Britain, France, the United States, Russia, Serbia, Cuba, Panama, Costa Rica, Paraguay and Liberia. And now Siam must be added. If it is really quite true that the white elephant is doomed."

GERMAN GEOLOGISTS IN THE WAR.

In his residential address to the Vesey club, Dr. A. Strahan, F. R. S., stated that the Germans began three years ago to make geologists a part of their army organization, says the Scientific American. A geological staff was created under the direction of a professor of the University of Grieswald, and put to work on the western front, where its advice was utilized in connection with the laying of field rail ways, the water supply of the army, the examination of marsh lands, the finding of road metal, and protection against landslides due to gunfire. It is said that much more extensive use was made of geological maps than has thus far been disclosed, and that the Germans, with an eye to possible future wars, have been making a very thorough geological study of the occupied territory in neighboring countries.

THE DRAWBACK.

She—His wife made a man of him. He—Yes, but anybody that looks at him can tell it is a home-made job.

No. Maude, dear, it isn't a sign that a man has clothes to burn just because he wears a smoking jacket.

SWEET TOOTH GETS A TRAVELING MAN INTO LOCAL COURT

Harry E. Dill, a traveling man, procured for himself "much grief," Wednesday evening, when after he was refused a second spoonful of sugar at the Sherwood Hotel he became "naughty."

Dill, who had registered at the hotel, was served according to the regulation with a spoonful of sugar, his stipulation being necessary in order that the hotel might come under the requirements of the conservation board. He asked for a second helping and when it was refused became abusive and demanded it. He used as an argument that he should have more because he was a government inspector.

The police department was notified and he was taken in tow for an investigation. He denied that he had anti-American leanings, and with regard to his statement that he was a government inspector said that he had applied for that position.

He was turned over to other authorities in the city for a further investigation and was later released.

DANCE HALLS AND GRILL ROOMS ARE RAIDED BY POLICE

New York, Aug. 1.—To stamp out alleged immorality in resorts near the Brooklyn navy yard, the police early today raided a number of dance halls and grill rooms and detained for temporary examination 57 women. The authorities acted at the request of army officials, who in an investigation of alleged intoxication of soldiers and sailors at Coney Island, discovered that some of the men, donning bathing suits, had been able to procure drinks. Orders have been issued that enlisted men patronizing the beach resorts wear bathing suits marked "U. S."

GERMANY CONTEMPLATING RECALL OF AMBASSADOR

London, Aug. 1.—Germany is contemplating the recall of Ambassador von Mumm from the Ukraine and the handing of passports to the ambassador of the Ukraine in Berlin, pending the clearing up of the situation in Kiev, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Amsterdam, under Wednesday's date.

GOT BIG PAY FOR HUN PROPAGANDA

George Sylvester Viereck.

George Sylvester Viereck, an American citizen of German blood, is said to have admitted to federal authorities that previous to the entrance of the United States into the war he received large sums of money from the German government to spread Hun propaganda in this country. He was the editor of a paper which before the war he called the "Fatherland." After America entered the war he changed the name of his sheet to Viereck's American Weekly. He admits that he is kin of the Kaiser.
